add the below content to the ABOUT US PAGE

Ever thrown an epic party? One that had people raving about the decor, the music, the atmosphere? Yeah, us too. But then the confetti settles, the music fades, and a familiar dread sets in: What am I going to do with all these amazing leftovers?

We've all been there. The garage becomes a graveyard of forgotten tiaras, dusty disco balls, and enough paper lanterns to launch a mini moon. Spouses grow tired of tripping over boas, and the guilt of waste gnaws at us.

But what if there was a better way? A place where you could breathe new life into your party magic, where leftovers become someone else's dream decorations?

I'm Nichole, your fellow party enthusiast and the proud founder of MyPlo, your one-stop shop for all things party, past, present, and future.

So, are you ready to join the MyPlo party? Ditch the attic purgatory and let your leftover magic shine! We're more than just party leftovers, we're a sustainable celebration revolution, and everyone's invited!

Welcome to MyPlo, where every party starts... again!

MyPlo Safety Tips: Party on Safely with a Happy Swap!

Whether you're a seasoned MyPlo pro or a newbie planning your first party treasure hunt, safety during meetups is crucial. Here are some tips to ensure your leftover exchange sparkles without the stress:

For Sellers:

- Pick a well-lit, public place: Opt for busy parks, coffee shops, or community centers during daylight hours. Avoid secluded areas or meeting after dark.
- Trust your gut: If something feels off about the buyer, don't hesitate to reschedule or cancel the meetup.
- Bring a friend or family member: A buddy adds an extra layer of comfort and security.
- Don't accept large bills: Ask for smaller denominations or arrange electronic payment beforehand.
- Keep valuables out of sight: Only bring the party supplies you're selling, leave wallets and phones in a secure bag.

- Be clear about the condition of your items: Highlight any flaws or defects in the listing description.
- Take photos of the exchange: Capture pictures of the buyer and the goods being exchanged for your records.

For Buyers:

- Do your research: Check the seller's MyPlo profile and reviews to gauge their reliability.
- Communicate clearly: Confirm the meeting location and time beforehand, and let the seller know if you need to reschedule.
- Inspect the items before paying: Ensure they match the listing description and condition before handing over any cash.
- Avoid bringing large sums of money: Only bring the amount agreed upon for the purchase.
- Be aware of your surroundings: Stay in a well-lit, public area and trust your instincts if something feels unsafe.
- Bring small bills: Make the transaction smoother by having the exact amount or smaller denominations ready.
- Let someone know your location: Share your planned meetup location and estimated duration with a friend or family member.

Bonus Tips for Both:

- Meet during day hours: Early mornings or afternoons offer better visibility and security.
- Inform MyPlo Support: Let them know about your planned meetup beforehand, especially if it's your first time.
- Trust your instincts: If anything feels suspicious, abort the meetup and report it to MyPlo immediately.

Remember, MyPlo is built on a friendly and supportive community. By following these safety tips, we can all ensure every party leftover adventure sparkles with trust and good vibes!

Please note: These are general tips, and it's important to adapt them based on your specific situation and local regulations.

By practicing safety and common sense, we can keep the MyPlo platform a joyful and secure space for party enthusiasts to connect and celebrate!
